

Higher = better for all constructs. Depression/anxiety scales (BDI, BAI, HamD6) are sign-flipped (multiply by -1) before z-scoring so an increase always means improvement. Each measure is z-scored within patient so patients on different absolute scales combine on a common footing. All member z-scores of a construct enter one model; phase change is tested with z ~ phase + (1|patient).

